

Piotr Czaplicki

Director of the Biotechnology and Chemistry

Department of the Patent Office of the Republic of Poland

Piotr Czaplicki graduated from the Faculty of Chemistry at the Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń. Since 1999, he has been employed in the Polish Patent Office of the Republic of Poland.

He started his professional career in the Patent Examination Department where he was responsible for examining patent applications in the field of biochemistry. He held successive positions as a trainee expert, assessor and patent examiner.

From September to December 2006, he acted as the Deputy Director of the Patent Examination Department. Subsequently, from 1 January 2007 to 19 February 2021, he was the Director of the Patent Examination Department. On 20 February 2021, he was appointed Director of the Biotechnology and Chemistry Department.

He has given lectures during training sessions for candidates for patent attorneys in the field of industrial property protection and has been a member of the Qualification Examination Committee for patent attorneys-to-be.

He speaks and lectures at conferences and training courses on inventions and utility models. He is also the author and co-author of press articles on industrial property protection.